Top 10 Active Learning Strategies for Effective Classroom ...

There are many active learning strategies including learning through play, group work, activity-based learning, and project work, but what they all have in common is that learning is centred around the learner, rather than the teacher. Rather than just listening to the teacher, pupils develop their thinking abilities by doing or saying something to direct their learning. This may be something you do already, something you've done a lot more of in your online lessons or might be something ...
